Report of the Board of Auditors to the General Assembly on the accounts of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees for the year ended 31 December 1990.

AUDIT OPINION

We have examined the following appended financial statements, numbered I to III, properly identified, and relevant schedules of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees for the financial period ended 31 December 1990. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of the accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

As a result of our examination, we are of the opinion that the financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Organization as at the end of the period and the results of its operations for the period then ended.

The financial statements were prepared in accordance with the stated accounting principles, which were applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding financial period. The transactions were in accordance with the Financial Regulations and legislative authority.

SUMMARY OF BASIC ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(APPLICABLE TO THE VOLUNTARY FUNDS ADMINISTERED BY THE UNITED NATIONS HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR REFUGEES)

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

1. The UNHCR voluntary funds accounts are maintained in accordance with the Financial Rules for Voluntary Funds administered by the High Commissioner for Refugees.

2. The accounts of UNHCR's voluntary funds cover the calendar year. They are submitted to the United Nations Board of Auditors and the Executive Committee of the High Commissioner's Programme.

3. Funds at the disposal of the High Commissioner for the purposes falling outside the Annual Programme and Emergency Fund are recorded as trust funds, reserves or special accounts as may be appropriate in accordance with the Financial Rules.

4. The writing off of losses of cash, property or the book value of accounts receivable, including the conversion of loans into grants, is governed by Financial Rule 10.6. A statement of all amounts written off is submitted to the Board of Auditors with the annual accounts.

5. Financial Transactions are recorded in the accounts on an accrual basis. Thus, all firm pledges (except pledges announced in 1990 for the 1991 General Programmes) are recorded as income in 1990, even if they concern programmes whose budgetary period extends into 1991, and therefore may be partially obligated in 1990. The term 'expenditure' designates total obligations incurred up to 31 December 1990, whether liquidated or not. Agreements or Letters of Instruction signed prior to 31 December 1990 but for projects commencing in 1991 are not included in 1990 expenditure.

CONTRIBUTIONS

6. Cash received for pledges is recorded at the US dollar equivalent calculated at the UN operational rate of exchange prevailing on the date of receipt. Pledges unpaid are adjusted to their dollar equivalent calculated at the UN operational rate of exchange prevailing on 31 December of each year. Pledges outstanding for a period exceeding 5 years are not shown in the accounts, but are retained in memorandum records.

TRANSLATION OF CURRENCY

7. The accounts of UNHCR are maintained in United States dollars. Transactions in other currencies are translated into United States dollars at the United Nations' operational rates of exchange prevailing at the time of the transaction. At the year end, cash, investments and sundry accounts receivable and payable in currencies other than United States dollars are translated at the applicable United Nations' rates of exchange. Exchange differences are debited/credited to the General Fund.

FIXED ASSETS

8. Non-expendable property purchased with UNHCR's Voluntary Funds and ownership of which remains vested in UNHCR, is charged as expenditure to the appropriate budget accounts in the year of acquisition; it is not included in the balance sheet but is recorded in separate inventories; the book values at 31 December 1990 of non-expendable property held for administrative purposes was $ 30,897,287.

INVESTMENTS

9. Short-term investments of monies not immediately required are made in accordance with Financial Rule 9.1 and a report on such investments is included in the annual accounts (Schedule 9). Income from investments is credited to the General Fund as provided for in Financial Rule 9.3.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF AUDITORS TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY ON THE ACCOUNTS OF THE VOLUNTARY FUNDS ADMINISTERED BY THE UNITED NATIONS HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR REFUGEES FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 1990

Introduction

1. As required by paragraph 22 of the statute of the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), the Board of Auditors has audited the accounts of the voluntary funds administered by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees for the year ended 31 December 1990.

2. The examination was conducted in accordance with article XII of the Financial Regulations of the United Nations and the annex thereto and with the common auditing standards adopted by the Panel of External Auditors of the United Nations, the specialized agencies and the International Atomic Energy Agency. The examination was conducted at UNHCR headquarters at Geneva and at UNHCR field offices in Mexico, Ethiopia and Malawi.

3. During the year under review, the Board of Auditors continued its normal practice of reporting the results of specific audits in the field and at headquarters and issued management letters containing detailed audit observations to the Administration. This practice once again helped in maintaining a continuous dialogue with the Administration.

4. The following are considered the most significant matters arising from our 1990 audit examination. We have discussed these matters with the Administration and, where appropriate, its views have been reflected in the present report.

5. The report is divided into two parts covering the audit of financial statements and management issues, respectively.

Follow-up of actions taken on previous audit recommendations

6. Due to the late submission of the Administration's comments (8 May 1991) it was not possible to evaluate the efficacy of measures envisaged or already taken to address the previous recommendations of the Board. However, during our final audit the recommendations which fell within the scope of our examination were reviewed and those requiring further action have been included in the present report. An evaluation of the effectiveness of measures taken will be conducted in our next audit.

Summary of recommendations

7. We recommend that the following actions, presented in order of priority, be taken:

(a) Provisions in the implementing agreements on the effective recovery from implementing agencies of project funds not utilized for purposes intended should be rigorously enforced, as this will compel the executing agencies to improve control of project funds (paras. 61-63).

(b) Existing organizational arrangements and procedures for the management of cash resources in the field offices should be strengthened and personal responsibility for losses re-emphasized (paras. 54, 56, 68-69).

(c) To improve transparency, the reporting of "other trust funds" in schedule I should be expanded to disclose separately any trust fund with a favourable balance of $ 500,000 and above at year- end (paras. 24-25).

(d) All funds in transit at year-end should be adequately investigated and promptly adjusted to reflect the actual balances in the related accounts (para. 33).

(e) The difficulty of providing adequate protection for UNHCR resources in the field offices in violent political situations should be carefully reviewed and appropriate remedial action taken (para. 108).

(f) Implementing agencies should be encouraged to ensure timely reporting of project activities to facilitate the closure of completed projects (paras. 85-86).

(g) UNHCR should take appropriate measures to recover the confiscated goods and to improve facilities planning to ensure the availability of adequate accommodation prior to the shipment of goods (paras. 91-92).

(h) The submission of Receiving Reports to confirm the receipt of consignments should be facilitated to allow for timely resolution of delivery deficiencies (paras. 119-121).

(i) UNHCR should re-emphasize to implementing partners/agencies that the utilization of donor contributions for the welfare of refugees should always override other considerations (paras. 96-98 and 100).

(j) Field offices should be informed of specific time frames for disposal of approved inventory to permit its timely disposal (para. 111).

Summary of findings

8. The present bulk reporting of "other trust funds" in the financial statements does not permit adequate disclosure of individual trust funds with significant balances at year-end (paras. 23-24).

9. Due to an inadequate review, some completed transactions remained recorded as cash in transit and were not investigated and adjusted to reflect the correct balances in the related accounts (para. 33).

10. UNHCR was obliged to guarantee the sum of $ 280,000 since 1986 (attracting a total bank charge of about $ 10,000 to date) as demurrage/detention fees to avoid the confiscation of a consignment (paras. 39-40).

11. A substantial increase of 16.5 per cent in voluntary contributions in 1990 reflects the growing support by the donor community, although UNHCR is not yet out of the economic doldrums (para. 47).

12. A special review of cases of fraud and presumptive fraud reported in 1989 and 1990 uncovered internal control weaknesses in the administration of financial resources in some field offices and by some implementing agencies. Significant internal control weaknesses noted are provided below.

(a) The absence of effective supervisory controls enabled an Administrative Assistant (Finance) of UNHCR field office to commit a number of administrative and financial improprieties including the embezzlement of funds valued at approximately $ 17,759 (para. 56).

(b) Three staff members of an implementing partner were suspected of misappropriating project funds amounting to $ 133,097 of which a transfer of $ 69,767 was made into a fictitious savings account (paras. 57-59).

(c) Improper segregation of duties and the non-compliance with internal control procedures on the preparation and custody of cheques facilitated the misappropriation, through manipulation of cheques, in two UNHCR field offices (paras. 68, 69 and 75).

13. On project activities our review disclosed operational weaknesses which adversely affected the timely implementation and closure of projects (paras. 82, 83 and 85).

14. Supplies valued at $ 294,401 temporarily stored by UNHCR in warehouses in a host country pending trans-shipment to their final destination were allegedly confiscated by customs officials of that country (paras. 88-89).

15. We noted inefficient utilization by an implementing agency of project funds allocated for hospitality, accommodation and communications (paras. 95-97 and 99-100).

16. We observed from our review of losses of property through theft and disappearance that in a few cases responsibility could not be established because of non-compliance with effective handing-over procedures (para. 103).

17. Our audit visits to field offices confirmed the difficulty of providing adequate protection for UNHCR cash and property in certain unfavourable political situations (paras. 106 and 108).

18. In the absence of specific time frames non-expendable property approved for disposal remained on inventory for long periods, with the possibility of reducing their values through deterioration and loss (paras. 109-110).

19. The recording and monitoring of administrative project property showed a considerable improvement resulting in fewer outstanding items on inventory at year-end (para. 116).

20. On procurement, we observed that further improvement in the submission of Receiving Reports by consignee offices is needed to rid the records of long completed shipments (paras. 119-120).

21. Some construction contracts were awarded by implementing agencies without due regard to contract procedures, while contract payments were not supported by certificates of actual work done (para. 123).

22. Verification of delivery status of stores paid for in September 1990 by a field office in advance of supply showed that tyres valued at $ 20,212 had not been supplied prior to the finalization of this report (para. 127).

Part I: Financial statements
Accounts and financial reporting

Inadequate disclosure of "other trust funds"

23. In an interim audit of November 1990, the Board observed that the reporting together in the financial statements of a large number of trust funds with significant balances (annex to statement II and in the relevant schedules) as "other trust funds" did not ensure adequate disclosure of the individual trust funds. The Board reverted to this subject during the final audit to examine whether the current presentation permits adequate transparency in the financial reporting of "other trust funds".

24. It is acknowledged that in 1989 and 1990 a note was added to "other trust funds" in the annex to statement 1 which referred to the breakdown of contributions by donor in schedule 1 and expenditure by location in schedule 5. While this approach is an improvement on the prior years' presentation, in the opinion of the Board it did not go far enough. Furthermore, the Administration has not developed a specific policy to ensure consistency of application in the consolidation of "other trust funds" into one account in schedule 1.

25. We discussed with the Administration the need to disclose separately in schedule 1 any trust fund with a favourable balance of $ 500,000 and above to allow for adequate transparency. UNHCR promptly prepared and submitted to the Board an annex to schedule 1, listing all trust funds larger than $ 500,000. This presentation is under review and the final form agreed with UNHCR will be reflected in the financial statements for 1991. The Board would recommend that this new policy be incorporated in the summary of basic accounting policies or shown as a note to schedule 1.

26. It will also be recalled that for purposes of adequate transparency, the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (ACABQ) in its comments on the reports of the Board of Auditors stated the following in paragraph 53 of document A/45/570 of 4 October 1990:

'The Committee notes from schedule 1 of the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 1989 that an amount of $ 108,699,071 has been listed as "other trust funds". The Committee was informed by the representatives of the High Commissioner that these funds are not trust funds in the traditional sense of the word as used in the United Nations, but rather these are special programme funds. As such, the Committee recommends that in the future, UNHCR use other terminology to describe these resources'.

27. Our review for the compliance of this recommendation disclosed that UNHCR has retained the use of the term "other trust funds" rather than applying a different terminology to describe these resources. The Administration was not able to advance reasons to support the views expressed by its representatives to the ACABQ on the uniqueness of UNHCR "other trust funds" from those of the UN as defined in chapter 12 of the UN Finance Manual.

28. The Administration stated that all UNHCR voluntary funds fall within the category of trust funds as outlined in chapter 12 of the UN Finance Manual. They are grouped into two main categories "General Programmes" and "Special Programmes". To the extent that funds do not concern any of the individually identified programmes in the annual accounts under these two main categories, they are accounted for under "other trust funds" as part of the Special Programmes, now appropriately footnoted on statement 2 of the annual accounts. Consequently the continued use of this terminology seems appropriate.

29. On the contrary, the Board has observed that included in the other trust funds are "simple transfers" ($ 2.2 million in 1990) which were funds channelled through UNHCR to third parties and do not fund UNHCR activities. This type of resource which varies from year to year ($ 15.5 million in 1989) requires a different terminology and a different treatment in the accounts. The Administration is required to take the necessary corrective action.

30. The Board will continue to examine the nature, type and control of the "other trust funds" and to make appropriate recommendations with the view to further improving transparency in financial reporting.

Cash in transit not promptly adjusted to proper accounts

31. Cash in transit was stated at $ 925,897.37 (statement 1) at the end of the financial year under review. This figure was made up of $ 173,439.79 for voluntary funds deposit accounts and $ 752,457.58 for petty cash accounts of both field offices and voluntary funds.

32. Under normal circumstances, adjustments of cash in transit should be completed within two months of the effective date of the transaction. Our review disclosed that the cash in transit balance was made up of 42 transactions, 19 (45 per cent) of which were effected between 31/8/89 and 31/10/90. Six of the 19 transactions involved a total amount of $ 352,647.18 which should have been debited to various bank accounts while 13 represented a total amount of $ 542,246.40 which should have been credited to other accounts.

33. In the opinion of the Board, the 19 transactions which were outstanding for periods ranging from 2-14 months prior to the cut- off date of 31 December 1990 should have been investigated earlier and adjusted to reflect the correct balances of the affected accounts as of 31 December 1990. The Board recommended that all funds in transit which remain outstanding for more than two months should be promptly investigated and timely adjusted.

34. The Administration responded that 13 of the 19 outstanding transactions have, since the review, been adjusted. The remaining 6 transactions involving a small amount were being investigated for further action. The Administration took note of the observation and recommendation and assured that adequate measures will be taken to avoid the recurrence of the situation in the future.

Letters of credit requiring further action

35. The stated liability of $ 630,000 (statement 1) represents two letters of credit for $ 349,500 and $ 280,000 issued on behalf of UNHCR by two banks. It was noted that one letter of credit was opened for the supply of tents. The delivery date was 30 December 1990 while the validity date of the letter of credit was 20 January 1991.

36. The supplier, however, failed to supply the tents at the due date and the delivery date was extended to 31 January 1991 while the validity date was varied to 15 February 1991. By amending the validity date of the letter of credit and the delivery date of the tents, the supplier was given the opportunity to deliverthe items later than the date specified in the purchase order contract.

37. In view of the delay in the supply of the items the Board recommended that the penalty clause in the purchase order contract be applied with effect from the date of default and the appropriate amount deducted from the invoice of the supplier.

38. The Administration expressed concern that the full application of the penalty clause from the original date of default would have discouraged the supplier and most likely would have resulted in the cancellation of the order of most urgently needed relief items. The Board was informed that the bank has been instructed to pay the supplier less a penalty sum to be calculated from 1 February 1991, the date the supplier ought to have shipped the tents in accordance with the extended letter of credit. Payment of an appropriate amount will be verified by the Board in due time.

39. It was further noted that the amount of $ 280,000 representing a letter of credit opened by another bank since 1986 was a guarantee for alleged interruption of discharge of cargo. It was observed that this guarantee has remained in the books since 1986 and the bank continues to charge a commission of $ 448 every three months attracting a total amount of $ 10,000 to date.

40. It was explained that upon legal advice UNHCR was obliged under a clause on a bill of lading to guarantee the sum of $ 280,000 as demurrage/detention fee for cargo on a vessel to ensure that the consignment of maize flour donated to UNHCR is not confiscated. The settlement of the case was initially delayed mainly due to the bankruptcy of the owners of the shipping vessel.

41. Considering that the guarantee has to be maintained until the case is closed and that such cases normally drag on for long periods of time, The Board would urge UNHCR to ensure a comprehensive review of its chances of winning or losing the case and to take appropriate action that would consequently prove to be cost-effective.

42. The Administration replied that on further review the maintenance of the guarantee of $ 280,000 is considered the most cost effective course of action short of UNHCR agreeing to a settlement before a court decision is taken. The result of the case when known will be reviewed by the Board against the Administration's above decision.

Liquidity position

43. As detailed below, our review of the liquidity position of UNHCR disclosed that as of 31 December 1990 its current assets amounting to $ 286.6 million exceeded its current liabilities of $ 162.6 million by $ 124.0 million. With the average monthly cash requirement calculated to be about $ 40.0 million UNHCR's liquidity at the year-end could provide funding for its programmes for a maximum period of three months.

44. The following comparison shows current assets and current liabilities for the present and prior year.

ASSETS	$ 000	$ 000
Current	1990	1989	Diff.
Cash in hand and at banks	7,412	3,752	3,660
Cash in transit	926	3,427	(2,501)

Other payables	3,906	2,301	1,605
	162,609	146,791	15,818

Excess of current assets over current liabilities	123,991	45,117	78,874

45. The value of short-term investments, made up of four call accounts ($ 25.3 million) and 26 time deposit accounts ($ 131.4 million) was stated as $ 156.7 million at the end of the financial year under review. Short-term investments in 1990 therefore showed a remarkable increase of $ 120.1 million over the amount of $ 36.6 million invested as of 31 December 1989.

46. The following cash flow shows sources and application of funds for the year-end 1990.

SOURCES	$'000	$'000
Contributions	582,893
Other income from revenue producing activities	17,213
Prior years:
Cancellation of obligations	24,981
Refund from other agencies	4,636
Write-offs	(6,839)
		622,884
USES
Operating expenditures	474,250
Programme support costs	69,760
		544,010
Increase in net current assets or working capital	78,874

47. The increase in invested funds during the year resulted from a substantial increase in the volume of voluntary contributions amounting to $ 581.4 million due to encouraging support by the donor community. The figure for the previous year was $ 499.0 million. However, due to budgetary cut-backs the level of disbursements for refugee assistance programmes dropped from the prior year's total of $ 523.8 million to $ 460.2 million as of 31 December 1990.

48. In 1990, as in the previous year, investments were made on an ad hoc basis due to limited funds. We, however, noted that new policies and procedures for investing UNHCR funds have been formalized in 1991. Currently, investment decisions are made on the criteria regarding equitable distribution of available funds among eligible banks on a competitive basis.

49. The Board urged the Administration to continue with its present policy on investments in conformity with the relevant provisions of UNHCR Financial Rules.

Part II: Management issues
Financial management and control systems

50. The Board carried out a special review of reported cases of fraud and presumptive fraud which occurred in 1989 and 1990. The review disclosed irregularities in the financial administration of field offices/implementing agencies due to the absence of adequate internal controls, and the non-compliance with financial rules and regulations as set out in the succeeding paragraphs.

Administrative and financial irregularities in a regional office

51. By taking advantage of his position of trust and responsibility, a senior staff member in a regional office of UNHCR, embezzled funds and property which had been entrusted to him by UNHCR and by some of his colleagues between 1989 and 1990.

52. An investigation carried out by the regional office which complemented a report of the UN Internal Audit Division indicated that as a result of inadequate supervision the staff member misappropriated fuel coupons and failed to account for various monies totalling about $ 20,000.

53. In addition to the above, the staff member was responsible for the preparation of a guarantee ostensibly given by a former regional associate administrative officer on behalf of UNHCR in connection with the staff members's loan application to a bank. The guarantee stated that the staff member's emoluments would be paid into that bank and that should he be separated from service, all sums due to him would be paid into his account with the bank. This transaction has not resulted in a financial loss to UNHCR.

54. The Board recommended that prompt action should be taken against the staff member in accordance with Chapter X of the Staff Rules and all amounts due to UNHCR recovered from him.

55. The Administration advised that with the approval of UN headquarters, the staff member was suspended without pay effective 1 March 1991. UNHCR has meanwhile submitted a recommendation to headquarters for his summary dismissal. It was reported that the branch office has recovered part of the money embezzled from the staff member's January and February 1991 salaries. Once a decision is taken on his dismissal, UNHCR will consider other ways of recovering additional sums due from him.

56. The circumstances surrounding the perpetration of the above irregularities and the duration of the fraud (1988-1990) indicated the absence of a regular review and inadequate supervision of the functions of that staff member. Supervisory controls should therefore be strengthened.

Misappropriation of funds by the staff of an implementing agency

57. Three officers of an implementing partner of UNHCR were suspected of embezzling funds amounting to $ 133,097 entrusted to the implementing partner for refugee activities. The agency requested an investigation into the case.

58. The following irregularities were uncovered:

(a) Payments were not authorized;
(b) Payments without supporting documents or supported by photocopies;
(c) Double payments;
(d) Overpaid invoices;
(e) Payments to non-students or payments which were non-educational.

59. It was also established that a savings account was opened with a bank in January 1986 by two of the officers in the name of the implementing partner without authority. Out of the $ 133,097 stated above an amount of $ 69,767 transferred to the bank account from the date it was opened until 18 October 1989 was considered misappropriated.

60. On the basis of the facts established the three officers were dismissed, and handed over to the police for further investigations. The officers were subsequently arraigned before court.

61. UNHCR has indicated to the implementing partner that in accordance with the implementing agreements, funds not utilized for the intended purposes must be reimbursed to UNHCR. The implementing partner argues that it is not responsible for funds criminally misappropriated, and that UNHCR will be reimbursed only after the amounts have been recovered from the suspects during or after the completion of the on-going court action.

62. Legal advice obtained by UNHCR confirms that the agency as an employer, is liable for the criminal acts of its employees. UNHCR should therefore demand the restitution of the misappropriated funds irrespective of the outcome of the criminal court proceedings.

63. Contrary to the above legal advice, the Board did not see much evidence of recovery action taken by UNHCR. The Board is in favour of a more effective recovery action through set-offs against subsequent payments to be made to the implementing agency by UNHCR.

64. UNHCR replied that its branch office is continuously pursuing the matter with the implementing agency and intends to take all necessary measures to recover the amount embezzled. In addition, the Internal Audit Division is conducting an audit of the accounts of the implementing agency. The Board will follow up this matter in its future audits.

Forged UNHCR cheques

65. A driver of UNHCR is suspected of forging on three cheques the signature of a project officer who was a signatory to a bank account and succeeded in embezzling an amount of $ 8,375. It later came to light that the cheques were torn from some unused UNHCR cheque books.

66. It was also noted that the signatures on the three cheques bear an uncanny resemblance to the actual signature of the project officer who has disowned the signatures. When the case was referred to the criminal laboratory, its report confirmed that the cheques were not drafted in the handwriting of the project officer. It was found that the identity card number of the suspect was indicated at the back of one of the cheques. Further, two bank tellers identified the driver as having cashed one of the three cheques.

67. Section 5.3.1. of chapter IX of UNHCR Manual states that "upon receipt from the bank of block or book of cheques these will be checked to ensure that they are in numerical sequence and that none are missing".

68. We noted that drivers, whose duties do not entail accounting responsibilities, were asked to pick up cheques from the bank. However, upon receipt of the cheques they were not verified by the responsible official, contrary to the above quoted instruction.

69. Various arguments have been advanced by both UNHCR and the bank in defence of their respective action or inaction, with both trying to hold each other responsible for the fraud. Although some sloppy banking procedures were identified, the Board believes that inadequate custodial arrangements over blank cheque books after their release by the bank and the lack of verification upon receipt largely permitted the perpetration of the fraud.

70. Pending a court's ruling on the case UNHCR is withholding the November 1990 salary of the driver whose short-term contract which expired on 30 November 1990 was not renewed. The Board recommended that should the case be determined in favour of the bank the branch head should be held jointly liable with the driver in accordance with UN financial rule 114.1. Meanwhile, the above quoted provision in the UNHCR Manual should be strictly complied with.

71. UNHCR responded that the degree of liability on the part of UNHCR staff will have to be determined based on the ruling of the Court and the reaction from the bank which has once more been approached for compensation.

Manipulation of a cheque in a branch office

72. It is stated in section 5.3.3. of Chapter IX of the UNHCR Manual that cheques should be crossed unless for a very good reason this is not practicable. Our review disclosed that details on an uncrossed cheque were altered by a refugee who succeeded in defrauding a branch office of US $ 2,516.

73. The cheque was handed to the refugee, after its issuance, to be carried to an embassy for the acquisition of a visa to enable him to travel to his first country of asylum. The refugee did not present the cheque to the embassy. Instead, through manipulation of the amount and the name of the payee on the cheque he withdrew and embezzled the money.

74. UNHCR headquarters queried that if the bank had exercised due care it would not have overlooked such a gross manipulation and would have withheld payment. UNHCR therefore held the bank responsible and requested a refund of the amount $ 2,516 which the bank has complied with.

75. While acknowledging the successful action of UNHCR, the Board is still of the view that there was a deficiency in the preparation of the cheque by leaving spaces that allowed manipulation and commission of the fraud. Furthermore, a cheque issued in favour of a reputable office should have been crossed so it could not be negotiated.

76. The Board recommended and the Administration agreed to continue to remind field offices on the proper completion of cheques and other accounting documentation to reduce the risk of manipulation and more importantly, to ensure that all cheques issued are crossed to the extent possible.

77. Although some of the monies involved in the above cases of fraud do not appear very significant, the cases reflect serious internal control weaknesses which require the immediate attention of the Administration. The Board will follow up on actions taken to improve financial controls in field offices.

Project activities

78. We examined relevant documentation at UNHCR headquarters of 96 projects with an estimated total budget of $ 163.5 million. Our selection of projects included annual programmes, special programmes, emergency funds and trust funds. Consideration was given to budgetary allocations, geographic distribution and past experience.

79. Included also are significant findings on project activities noted during our audit visits to three field offices. Our review disclosed operational weaknesses in the areas of project reporting and delivery, storage of relief goods and the utilization of financial resources.

Factors which inhibited timely project delivery

80. In its review of project activities the Board examined the causes of project implementation delays, project extensions and the non-termination of projects at due dates. It was noted that implementation delays arose principally from the untimely completion of relevant agreements which consequently delayed the release of funds and resulted in late commencement of projects. The difficulty of obtaining appropriate project personnel including procurement and delivery delays also necessitated frequent project extensions.

81. We observed a case when the letter of instruction (LOI) was signed four months late and the implementing partner took another four months to sign a letter of understanding. Consequently, the project started eight months behind schedule. In another instance, the acquisition of office accommodation was delayed hence the training and production of appliances commenced late.

82. Generally, the final narrative reports and financial reports required from implementing partners were not submitted on a timely basis. As a result the projects were not closed and UNHCR continued to maintain obligations as outstanding that should have been cancelled. The audit disclosed that outstanding obligations for 36 projects had not been submitted for liquidation at the end of October 1990, although the liquidation periods had expired by 3- 9 months.

83. A project was established to upgrade some second-cycle educational institutions to provide appropriate education for refugees in a country. A donor provided funding in the amount of $ 86,957 for construction work in one of the schools. But the operating partner has not submitted the financial and narrative reports for the past 15 months to enable UNHCR to present a report to the donor, despite the donor's specific request for the reports. Additionally, the report of an associate programme officer of UNHCR stated, inter alia, that the dormitory built with the donor's contribution was used as a temporary warehouse for construction materials instead of providing accommodation for the refugee students for whom it was constructed.

84. Project closure procedures require the submission to UNHCR of the relevant reports by the implementing partner not later than one month after the final date of liquidation of obligations or the termination of the project. Upon receipt and evaluation of the report UNHCR takes the appropriate closure action.

85. Our review further disclosed that despite reminders by UNHCR, a major implementing partner of refugee programmes in a country failed to submit the relevant reports in respect of seven projects with an estimated budget of $ 53.2 million whose liquidation dates have elapsed for periods of up to 13 months.

86. The Board acknowledges the efforts of UNHCR through the geographic desks to ensure timely reporting through regular reminders to implementing partners on the submission of relevant reports. The Board would, however, recommend the introduction of additional measures to further improve project implementation through timely reporting of project activities. In the opinion of the Board appreciable improvements in project monitoring and reporting will enhance UNHCR's credibility and promote the much needed donor support.

Confiscation of relief goods in a country

87. A project was established to procure and preposition various items for the repatriation of refugees to a particular country within a specified period. To achieve the objective of the project, UNHCR purchased and arranged temporary storage for humanitarian relief items in customs warehouses in a country, awaiting partial or whole trans-shipment to their final destination.

88. Under customs regulations of that country goods are stored for a period of four months pending clearance. After four months the goods may be confiscated unless a request for extension is made and approved. The Administration informed the Board that UNHCR was granted three consecutive extensions of four months duration each. The extension would therefore have expired on 23/3/90 based on the arrival date of the first consignment (23/3/89). It was alleged that in May 1990 the goods were confiscated by the customs officials of the host country.

89. Items confiscated at various customs warehouses valued at $ 294,401 were 20,000 blankets, 1,236 tents and 5,539 tarpaulins. The possibility of retrieving all the items appears slim as the tents have reportedly been disposed of by sale.

90. Due to the absence of adequate documentation at UNHCR headquarters on this case, the Administration could not assist the Board to establish whether the goods were confiscated because UNHCR did not seek a timely extension after the expiration of the previous extension; or whether the customs officials refused further extension on the grounds of restrictive customs laws in that country. The Administration's request for additional information from the field office has not been answered.

91. The Board is very much concerned that over one year after the relief items were allegedly confiscated (May 1990) headquarters still does not exactly know what has happened to the items. It is also not apparent to the Board whether UN property may be confiscated by a Member State and wonders whether UNHCR sought clarification in this respect from the legal office of the UN.

92. Meanwhile, the Board recommends that UNHCR take immediate appropriate measures to recover the confiscated goods and to adequately plan for storage facilities in the future prior to the shipment of goods to a location. The Board will vigorously follow up on developments on this case in its future audits.

Inefficient utilization of resources by an implementing partner

93. The Board's examination of the utilization of project funds by a major implementing partner of refugee programmes in a country disclosed opportunities for improvement as analyzed below.

(a) High expenditure on hospitality

94. An implementing partner was given an initial allocation of $ 769 for entertainment for one year. A request for additional funding was approved, increasing the allocation to $ 3,846, a rise of 500 per cent.

95. The additional allocation was to provide for the planned visits of donor Governments and agencies. The Administration stated the visits by the donors produced good results in that additional funding was received for two new trust fund projects. In accepting the basis for the increase in allocation, the Board cautions against the tendency to be over generous and advocated efficient utilization of project funds.

96. The Board also learnt that part of the hospitality allocation was covertly used to fund the meetings of the staff members of the implementing partner. The field office intends to discuss this anomaly with the implementing partner when the 1991 project comes up for revision.

(b) Excessive furnishing of an office of the implementing partner

97. An amount of $ 10,000 was spent to remodel and decorate the offices of the implementing partner. Our visit to the offices revealed the luxurious nature of the carpeting, curtains, furniture and other decorative agents which would seem to suggest affluence. Although the Board does not advocate that the offices of a partner executing refugee programmes should be poorly furnished, in its opinion a more judicious use of scarce resources would have been preferable.

98. The implementing partner considered the expenditures justified given the fact that their activities are not limited to refugees but extend to Governments, non-governmental organizations and foreign delegations. The Board, however, recommends that UNHCR should reemphasize to all implementing partners/agencies that the utilization of donor contributions for the welfare of refugees should always override other considerations.

(c) High communications costs

99. The implementing partner's office communications costs (telephone and fax) averaged about $ 1,000 a month. The UNHCR field office has complained that these costs are on the high side.

100. The Board observed the absence of internal controls to distinguish between official and private use of the telephone and fax facilities. To ensure that communications costs are maintained at the minimum level necessary for the maintenance of operational efficiency, UNHCR has requested and the partner has agreed to institute effective procedures to regulate the use of these facilities. The Board urges UNHCR to take the necessary follow-up action.

Expendable and non-expendable property

Theft and disappearance of non-expendable property

101. The Board's review of Property Survey Board (PSB) cases of theft and disappearance of non-expendable property disclosed instances of delayed submission of reports to headquarters despite constant reminders of the field offices on the need for timely reporting of cases that have come to light.

102. It was noted that cases of write-off of losses through theft and disappearance were higher in 1990 than in 1989. In 1989, 19 cases valued at $ 94,964.00 were written-off as against 38 valued at $ 152,535.78 in 1990, indicating increases of 50 per cent and 37 per cent in both number and value of write-offs. Eight cases relate to items of less than two years old.

103. The Board observed that in certain instances responsibility for losses could not be established because field representatives claimed that said items were not in stock at the time of their assumption of duty at the offices. Other losses were attributed to loose security over property and vehicle accidents. The difficulty of establishing responsibility for the loss of UNHCR property when a staff member takes over the schedule of another staff member suggests the non-compliance with handing-over procedures.

104. The Board recommended that the Administration should exert more pressure on field offices to exercise stricter control over property. Field officers on reposting should hand over property in their possession to their successors. Copies of handing over notes duly signed by both parties should be forwarded to the PSB and Inventory Control Unit at headquarters, for information and reconciliation of inventory records.

105. The Administration accepted the recommendation but stressed that $ 94,233.41 or 61.8 per cent of the reported losses concern countries with civil war situations and took place at gunpoint or were hijacked in areas with violent civil disturbances. Another 13 per cent of the losses or $ 20,254.24 had been reimbursed in kind or in cash by insurance or by the outside party associated with the loss. Therefore, only 25.2 per cent of the losses occurred in "normal circumstances" and could be compared to 1989 figures.

Looting of cash and non-expendable property

106. Our audit visits to field offices in 1990 disclosed that UNHCR cash and property were forcibly taken away by unidentified persons as outlined below:

(a) Six UNHCR vehicles were reported taken away from the field office by unknown persons into another country;

(b) A tractor in another field office was seized by some refugees who were returning to their home country;

(c) Rebels reportedly attacked a UNHCR field office and made away with UNHCR property including money;

(d) A field office was broken into and petty cash amounting to $ 1,180 kept in a stationery cabinet stolen.

107. It was alleged that the unfavourable political climate under which the first three cases took place did not permit adequate investigation and timely reporting to UNHCR headquarters. In the fourth case, however, a report was promptly made by the custodian of the petty cash to the appropriate UNHCR representative who delayed for a period of one year before reporting to headquarters.

108. The unlawful seizures of UNHCR property which only serve to satisfy the self-interest of few persons, is obviously not in the best interest of refugees world-wide. The difficulty of providing adequate protection for UNHCR property in certain situations is real and quite widespread. It will therefore require a careful review and appropriate policy decision. Perhaps, Governments' responsibility or intervention in cases of plunder/looting should be considered and written into the standard agreement with host countries.

Delayed disposal of non-expendable property

109. In its review of approved disposals of non-expendable property by sale or write-off in 12 countries, the Board noted that the Property Survey Board (PSB) did not specify the time frame for disposal action. Consequently, we noted that 23 items with an initial purchase value of $ 141,031.35 were retained on inventory for periods ranging between one and five years after the PSB had authorized their disposal. We noted further that five of the items were recommended for sale at $ 13,341.77 while nine others were to be sold by bidding.

110. In a number of cases it was not possible to determine the disposal action taken by the field offices in the absence of the appropriate forms and the lack of adequate information on the forms submitted. The continued retention on inventory of items approved for disposal will not allow for accurate portrayal of inventory status of serviceable items at a given time. Delayed disposal of items may result in the depreciation of their values due to deterioration or loss.

111. The Board recommended that field offices should be reminded to promptly dispose of property approved for disposal and submit timely reports to enable inventory records to be up-dated.
Furthermore, the PSB should set a specific time frame for the disposal of approved items.

112. In accepting the Board's recommendation, the Administration explained that field offices may retain property after approval for disposal until replacement items are received. This process may take 6-12 months. The Administration added that experience has shown that the final resale value of vehicles may exceed the initial estimated values despite the time lag and the additional wear and tear to the vehicles.

113. The Board pointed out that although the value of used vehicles may appreciate with time in areas of scarcity, the opposite is true in other areas. This trend (inventory value appreciating with time) will also not be applicable to other inventory items.

114. The Board was informed by the Administration that a time limit for the disposal of items is now set at four months after the Property Survey Board's approval.

Recording of non-expendable property

115. In the Board's previous report, document No.5E (A/45/5/Add.5), it was stated that non-expendable property valued at $ 13.5 million was not inventorized because the amount in respect of property for which UNHCR retained ownership had not been ascertained because the relevant forms had not been submitted to headquarters by field offices. As a result, the book value was not an accurate reflection of the inventory value at the year-end 1989.

116. The Board noted significant improvement in the submission of the relevant records in 1990. In this connection only 19 items valued at $ 122,000 were not reflected in the value of non- expendable property stated as $ 30.9 million at the year-end 1990. It was also noted that due to effective follow-up action only one country defaulted in the submission of verified inventory returns for 1990 as against 19 returns outstanding for 1989.

117. The Board encouraged the Administration to continue with its efforts to ensure that records accurately reflect the inventory status. The Administration acknowledged the Board's comments and assured of timely action to maintain the records as current as possible.

Procurement

Delayed submission of Receiving Reports to headquarters

118. Field offices are required by the UNHCR's Supplies and Food Aid Field Handbook to complete and submit Receiving Reports to UNHCR headquarters within one month of the arrival of goods at their destinations as proof that the goods received are in good condition and in the desired quantities to facilitate, inter alia, the submission of insurance claims when necessary.

119. We selected shipments received in 30 countries between January 1989 and October 1990 for which Receiving Reports were not submitted to Supplies and Food Aid Service (SFAS). We observed that 20 countries did not acknowledge receipt of the supplies with Receiving Reports nor did they send any other form of notification (telex, memorandum) to confirm receipt. The outstanding reports represented about 14 per cent of total shipments made by UNHCR for the period January 1989-October 1990. UNHCR has informed that 91 per cent of the shipments have, as of now, been acknowledged.

120. We also noted during our visit to a field office that Receiving Reports for 33 consignments amounting to over $ 9.0 million cleared between March 1989 and September 1990 had not been submitted to headquarters. The above situation was blamed on staff constraints and cumbersome clearing procedures, especially in respect of building materials in the host country. The Board was informed that out of the 33 outstanding Receiving Reports 19 have been submitted to headquarters and the rest were either being processed by the field office or the goods were under clearance from the ports.

121. The Board recommended that a more intensive monitoring action should be undertaken to facilitate the submission of these reports to allow for a timely resolution of delivery deficiencies.

Unsatisfactory local procurement of goods and services

(a) Construction works

122. A project agreement with an implementing agency requires that a quantity surveyor should be employed and his fees charged to the respective construction budget lines for all contracts above a predetermined minimum amount. The quantity surveyor will follow up appropriately on the terms of the construction contract and supervise the activities of the contractor. His recommendation will be the basis for payment.

123. The Board noted the following unsatisfactory contracting practices adopted by some implementing agencies in a field office:

(i) Contracts were awarded without the prior conclusion of formal agreements;
(ii) Absence of evidence of technical supervision of work was noted;
(iii) Payments were not made on the recommendations of a quantity surveyor as stated in paragraph 122 above. Consequently, final payments were made even when construction works had not been completed.

124. For proper utilization of funds UNHCR should ensure that contract agreements are concluded for all services including construction works and the contract provisions strictly enforced.
The UNHCR office has brought the issue to the attention of government officials with the view to redressing the situation.

(b) Undelivered items

125. Our examination of disbursement vouchers in a field office showed that between 17 September and 31 October 1990 a total amount of $ 54,391.68 was prepaid to various organizations for the supply of 12 different items. At the end of the audit visit in November 1990 the items remained undelivered.

126. Additionally, on 6 September 1990 an amount of $ 39,879.23 was paid by the field office to a supplier for the supply of 73 outer and inner tyres on behalf of an implementing agency to be used by 18 trucks in respect of a project.

127. We verified receipt of the tyres through the telephone at the office of the implementing agency on 11 November 1990. We were informed that only 36 tyres had been delivered leaving 37 ($ 20,212.76) outstanding. Subsequent correspondence dated 26 February 1991 received from the field office could not confirm delivery as the staff member who handled the sale has not reported for duty since November 1990.

128. The Administration informed the Board that stores valued at $ 54,391.68 have since been delivered. On the unsupplied tyres valued at $ 20,212.76 the Board was informed that the assistance of competent Government authorities has been requested to help trace the staff member who effected the sale. In the absence of the staff member, however, the Board would like to advise that delivery of the outstanding tyres should be pursued directly from the supplier to whom payment was made.

Write-off of losses of cash and property

129. In accordance with UNHCR financial rule 10.6, the Board of Auditors was informed of the amounts written off during 1990. Petty cash of $ 262.34 for a field office was written off for lack of evidence of personal responsibility for the loss. Non-expendable property amounting to $ 152,535.78 was written off as a result of loss or disappearance while a total of $ 148,861.82 concerned the write-off of obsolete property.

Cases of fraud or presumptive fraud

130. The Administration informed the Board that, in the course of 1990, it became aware that two staff members manipulated UNHCR cheques and succeeded in embezzling the amounts involved. Refund in one case has been made by a bank and the recovery of the other is being pursued. Also, a number of UNHCR cheques fell into wrong hands but attempts to encash them for personal advantage were thwarted by UNHCR's timely action.

131. A series of administrative and financial irregularities including the embezzlement of cash were committed by a staff member whose summary dismissal in addition to the recovery of the amount is envisaged. Through payments on invalid transactions another staff member misappropriated UNHCR funds, the recovery of which is pending. Alleged irregularities in food prices committed by the nationals of a country are under investigation by the host Government. (Two of the above cases were included in our review discussed in paragraphs 50-77 above).

Acknowledgement

132. The Board wishes to express its appreciation for the co-operation and assistance extended to the auditors by the High Commissioner, her officers and their staff.
